Notes

Account Holder:

By signing this form you give authority to the individual named above to place trade instructions on your account(s) as detailed. They may give such instructions without limitation and these instructions will be treated as if made by you for the purposes of our legal agreement. You will be liable for any such instruction as if it was given by you and you acknowledge this fact and agree to be bound as such by signing this instruction.

Authorised Individual:

By signing this authority you acknowledge that you may only give instructions to trade to the extent that the account holder would be permitted under the terms of our agreement. You also warrant to us that you are acting in a personal capacity and not carrying on a business of providing investment advice.
